Antioch High Wins Over Glenbrook and Wauconda Fives Easily

To Play at Ela-Vernon Fri., and Bensenville Next Thursday

Antioch High won victories over Glenbrook and Wauconda last week end to spring back into a three-way tie for second place and an acknowledged contender again for her position as basketball champion of the Northwest Conference. The Sequoias first helped dedicate the new Glenbrook gymnasium with a one-sided 60 to 38-victory over the Spartans, who on the following night surprised everyone, even themselves by beating the league leading Grant Bulldogs in an overtime thriller 57 to 66.

Grant previously had beaten Antioch, so that is one for the experts to figure out.

Then on Saturday night the Sequoias avenged an earlier 37-35 victory by Wauconda here by beating the Bulldogs on their home floor, 57 to 36, and Wauconda had beat Grant the night before 50-49.

Luck evened up for Grant which had won several games earlier in the season by the same margin. The victory over Wauconda threw Antioch into a tie with them for second place along with Palatine which is now regarded as the real threat next to Antioch in the conference.

At Lake Zurich Friday

The Sequoias will go to Lake Zurich tomorrow evening to play the return game with the Ela-Vernon Bears. Because the Ela gymnasium wasn't finished when the first game was scheduled there, the

Walk-Out at Regal China Company New Plant Stops Work

Work on the new Regal China company plant on North avenue was stopped early this week when union workmen walked off the job in protest over the employment of non-union electricians and plumbers.

Herman Kravitz, plant manager, said today that reports that he had met with union officials in an effort to settle the matter were false, and that he had not been consulted by union agents.

He said that he had no knowledge as to when work would be resumed. Carey Electric and Plumbing company of Antioch is installing the electrical and heating equipment at the plant.

The new plant has been under construction for some months, following a complete loss of the plant by fire last year. It was hoped that the plant could be in operation by this time, but delays of various types have held up construction work during the winter months.

Guidance and Council and Students Plan Hand Book for High School

Students of Antioch Township High school have expressed their desire for a hand book, according to Principal Albert Dittman. This matter is being carefully studied by the Guidance Council of Teachers and a committee of students from the Council.

Many schools were contacted in order to secure samples of hand-books in use. Thirty-six schools responded to the call. These books are being studied and plans are being devised so as to get one under way for our which which will meet the needs of our student body. The committees are meeting separately at present, but they will soon meet jointly to discuss plans for a book, what information they think should be in it, and activities program set up which may be put in active operation in our school, and many other desirable features which will make a better and more efficient school system.

The sole purpose of the hand-book is to adequately serve the needs of the school and community by keeping the two in closer contact with each other, bringing about a general understanding of policies and procedures.

The teachers who serve on the Guidance Council are Mrs. Veva Buckholz, Warren Polley, Richard Scott, Mrs. Jeanette Tulumello, and Don Chiappetta. The students from the council serving on the hand-book committee are Edwyna Chernick, Rosemary Larsen, Henry Kapell, and Bill Terry.

March of Dimes Lags: Is Far Behind 1953

Antioch, always on top in contributions to the annual March of Dimes campaign, bids fair to end up in a low position this year, according to A. J. Scully, local chairman.

Scully told Newsweek today that the complete figures were not available, but that from the money already collected it seems that Antioch will meet only about 60 per cent of the $2500 quota.

Up to today about $1200 has been collected. Last year's total was slightly over $2200. Scully added that it was possible that the collection boxes, placed in business places, would net more than expected. These will be picked up Saturday, when the drive officially ends. He urged that residents who have not yet made a contribution do so at once. Contributions will be accepted at the First National Bank or may be made to any of the volunteer workers.

Bus Service Through Antioch to Burlington, Chicago Discontinued

American Bus Co. Hopes to Get Permit for Renewal By May 15

Bus service by the American Coach Co. through Antioch from Burlington, Wis., to Chicago, was discontinued last week because of what the company explained was the expiration of the temporary authority of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Frank McCreary, president of the bus company, said that application has been made for new authority and that he hopes that service can be started again by May 15.

McCreary asked that people in this community not make their requests for renewed service to the bus company, but to write to the Interstate Commerce Commission and to the congressmen in Washington, D. C., citing the fact that this is the only bus line through the village and that the services are needed.

While the bus line doesn't have too much business in the winter time it carries many persons to the various resorts during the summer season.

Red Ink in General Fund Excites Trustees Until They Learn That Borrowing Was Cause

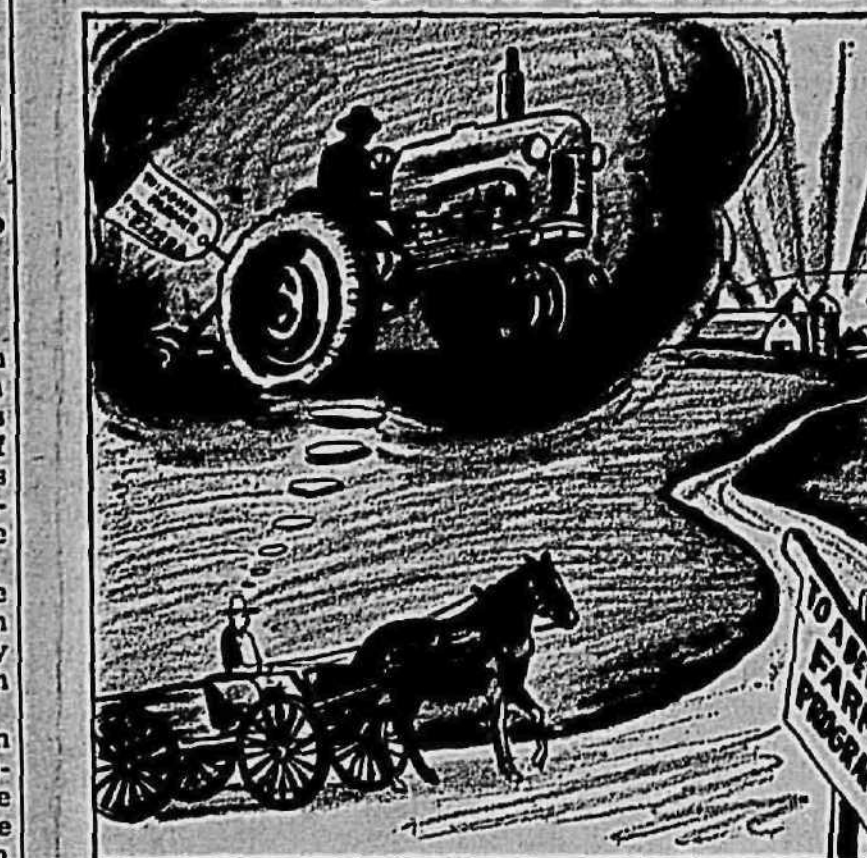

There were looks of surprise from the village trustees and President James McMillen Tuesday evening as Clerk Clarence Shultis read the report of Treasurer Martha Hunter, for it noted that the general fund was $561 in the red.

Not in a quarter century has the village ever operated in the red and it has been the boast of Antioch that even during the depression the village's general fund has been solvent.

There had been many expenditures lately, especially in remodeling and outfitting the new village offices, but trustees couldn't see why that should have taken all the money.

Then someone recalled that $1000

C. of C. Investigates Shoppers Bus Service In Antioch Community

Members of the Chamber of Commerce will make inquiry of the Channel Lake, Grass Lake, and other surrounding areas as to whether bus service is desirable for coming to Antioch to shop.

The business men at the luncheon meeting Monday said that they would be willing to provide regularly scheduled bus trips on one or two days a week if shoppers want them.

Members of the organization plan to contact village officials later on the possibility of placing a weather-proof telephone booth on the main street for emergency use. Telephones are not available after 2 a. m. to motorists passing through the village who might wish to summon aid.

In some states the telephone booths are placed at convenient distances on national highways. The telephone company said it would be willing to place one of these booths in Antioch if approval is given.

The Antioch Methodist Youth Fellowship will be host at 6 p. m. Sunday at a joint meeting of the youth groups of the Baptist and Methodist churches at Lake Villa and the Congregational church at Millburn.

David Cain was elected president of the subdistrict organization for the coming year. More than 150 teenagers from Methodist churches in Lake county were present at the two-day session.

The Student Council of Antioch High school decided some time ago to present a series of talent shows throughout the school year by members of the student body. The juniors presented their number on Dec. 8, and the sophomores on Jan. 28. The freshmen are to present their talent on Tuesday, Feb. 16, and the seniors on Thursday, Feb. 25.

The council decided that an all school talent show made up of three top winners of each group be presented to the student body on Thursday, March 11, and the same show presented to the public on Saturday evening, March 13. Village Gets Proposal To Take Over Scout House From Director

Trustees Like Idea and Will Investigate Plan by Next Meeting

William Schroeder, head of the Leila Anderson Foundation Tuesday evening proposed to the village board that the Scout House be taken over and operated by the village.

There was no detailed explanation of the plan, merely the sounding out of the trustees as to what they thought of the idea.

Apparently all of them present were in favor of it.

There was a reluctance, however, to receive the property, located a block north of the grade school on Main st., unless there is a deed free of provisions.

President McMillen said that the idea sounded good to him. He said that the village could form a park commission and receive a park tax income which it doesn't at present receive because it lacks the commission.

A park supervisor could be appointed and he could manage the building along with the adjoining park. Additional improvements could be made to serve the park.

President McMillen said that scout activities are great enough here to maintain the cost of operation even with the aid of local clubs.

Used for Class Rooms
The Scout House has been rented out to the Antioch Grade School for use as classrooms, but the school will not need the space next year

High School Seniors Select March 26 for Play Yet to Be Chosen

Seniors of Antioch Township High school are now busy selecting a class play which will be presented on Friday, March 26.

A play committee is now reading various types of plays. They will select five or six plays and discuss them so that they may narrow their choices down to three plays. The final selection will be made by the play director, Mrs. Jeanette Tulumello. Those serving on the committee are Edwyna Chernick, Wendy Midgley, Donna Martin, Bruce Mix, and Harold Wilson.

Much enthusiasm has been displayed on the part of members of the senior class. Thus far 20 seniors have signed up to try out for parts in the play. Many others have expressed their desire as to the committee on which they'd like to serve.

Tryouts will be held this coming week.

The Seniors are planning to use their money to finance a trip for the class in the spring

Village to Clear Title to Forgotten Property

The Antioch board was asked to receive and receipt a back tax payment of $8.52 on lot 6, warrant 21 in the Thorn subdivision which has been due since 1931. When George Palaske attempted to get title for the property of Sam Ries he was unable to get it from the Illinois Title Co., which discovered the assessment had not been paid.

An error in the bookkeeping of the village books skipped the lot involved and no notice was ever sent out for payment of either the principal or the interest. Because the village was at fault, it can do nothing less than clear the title without attempting to collect interest.

Doesn't Make Sense

Columnist Frank R. Kent points out that at the recent annual convention of a major labor organization fifteen resolutions were passed which "involved large expenditures of federal cash. The sixteenth urged that personal exemptions in the income tax law be raised from $600 to $1,000. This would lower government revenue by $9,500,000,000 a year. In other words government must spend more and take in less. This does not make sense and it never did."

Here is another example of imagination that thinks it possible to cut taxes, lower prices, raise wages, increase profits, and have government spend more and more money, all at one and the same time. If this brand of economic reasoning is accepted we will have no chance of getting out of the financial mess that has resulted from 20 years of unbridled government spending and waste.

How to Measure Prices

A great deal of the complaint about high prices would be avoided if we related those prices to our purchasing power. To take one example, for an industrial worker the actual dollar-and-cent price of an article is not necessarily the big thing. A much more important factor is how long he has to work to earn enough money to buy it.

The same thing is true in agriculture. A case in point is mechanized farm equipment—the highly efficient machines that are a "must" in present-day farming. Naturally, the prices of these machines have risen along with everything else. But the value of basic farm products has risen more.

For instance, in the 1935-39 period a two-plow tractor of a type in wide use cost the equivalent of 1,621 bushels of corn—in the first six months of last year it cost 1,449. In the previous period, it cost the equivalent of 68.9 hogs—in the first half of 1953 the figure was down to 51.3. In the case of most other crops and equipment, the situation is comparable. Any farm equipment today is much better than that of the past.

It remains a good buy.

Facts Against Rumors

Every now and then it is charged that retailers are making excessive profits on some commodity or group of commodities. That recently happened in the case of meat, and the clamor was sufficient to cause a Department of Agriculture investigation.

What was found? As a CBS network news program briefed the Department's report, "The conclusion is that there is no widespread disparity between changes in the price of cattle being sold off the farm and of the meats at the local butcher shops. The Department says . . . that, on the whole, nobody has been making any unusual or abnormal profits."

When the facts are separated from the rumors, it's usually proven that profiteering is almost as rare as hen's teeth in a free, competitive system. Retailing in all its branches is a particularly good example. When all the bills are paid, typical retailers have left, as profit, only from one to three or four cents out of each dollar taken in.

Medicine Looks Ahead

One welcome section of the President's State of the Union message was his reiteration of his determined opposition to socialized medicine. Mr. Eisenhower said, in effect, that he believes our medical problems should and can be solved within the framework of our free system.

The progress that has been made in solving many of the problems involved in a comparatively brief period of time has been tremendous. No major nation can boast of health standards or of medical service equal to ours. And the most intensive kind of work is being done to solve and alleviate the problems that remain.

The attitude of the medical fraternity as a whole was indicated in a recent statement by the head of the American Medical Association. He predicted that 1954 will be a year of great achievement in the medical field. He then urged the nation's doctors to continue to bring the best service possible to all of our people; to make available full service to all rural areas; to solve the problem of indigent medical care and chronic illness through their own efforts; to engage in all civic activities and other non-medical enterprises that are of benefit to their communities, and to faithfully abide by medicine's traditional high ethics.

No one who knows anything of American medicine's past history can doubt that the overwhelming majority of doctors and scientists will live up to these purposes and ideals. The work that medicine has been and is doing is the best answer to the false claims of the socialist-minded.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Sisters and brothers, I am tempted to hang out a "help wanted" sign. I can't handle the job alone. Here with a new Congress picking up its gavels and everybody there mounting their steeds and girding their person for battle, somebody has to pour some oil on the waters. Congress needs quieting down right at the start. You take a colony of bees and if you can quiet 'em before they take off as a swarm with no idea as to their destination, they will calm down—go to work.

Each congressman needs to be told to take it easy—reminded that the Govt. is supposed to be the umpire and not the pitcher, batter, catcher, and play second base. And you know, to boil our troubles down to an essence, our dilemma right now got its start when Sambo took the mound, put on his pitcher's glove, donned the umpire's mask and rode off into vast pastures—running the bases wild and wide.

This U. S. A. is a grand country—has been for a couple hundred years—but it didn't become grand via anything but freedom to persevere or not persevere—and profit in accordance with same. Everybody's job is to tell his congressman that the Govt. should be put back on its regular job—yanked off the pitcher's mound and out of the batter's box. All congressmen are pretty fair at reading, so give 'em something to peruse. They are not a bad outfit once we can calm 'em down.

Yours with the low down.

the talent developed in our school. The student body selects the winners from each group by voting on rating sheets which allow five points for originality, five for talent and five for over-all presentation. The three winners from the Junior class were: first place, the Hula Dancers consisting of Ed Haling, Fred Clarke, Allan Masopust, Ed Ring, Gen Van Patten and Paul Mattson; second place, a dance specialty by Barbara Smith, and third place, the Hillbilly quartet consisting of Rosemary Wolf, Marcia Hogan, Carol Cervinka, Joanne Quilty, Elaine Melosi, and Donna Jerde.

The sponsors of the Junior class are Don Chiappetta, Miss Eileen Schutte and Miss Mary Donovan. The three winners in the Sophomore Talent Show were: first place—Vibraharp music by Vernon Burdick; second place—Vocal duet by Jackie Martin and Donna Reidel; and third place—Tap dance by Carol Hansen and Lillian McNeil.

The sponsors of the sophomore class are Robert Willrett and Miss May Hartley. We are looking forward to two more fine presentations, the Freshmen and the seniors. Miss Theresa Wehr and John Grady sponsor the freshmen, and Melvin Stillson and Donald Cramer sponsor the seniors.

It is hoped that other students who have participated in programs, but who did not win one of the top three places may be used in other public programs. We feel that such experiences are good for our young talent and that many may be used in the near future.

Student Council of Antioch High School Will Sponsor Annual Crusade for Freedom

The annual drive for the Crusade for Freedom will again be sponsored by members of the Student Council of the Antioch Township High School.

Plans are now under way, and the dates set for the drive are Feb. 15 through Feb. 20, at which time all schools in the area will be contacted. Members of the Student Council will call at the various schools, explain the work in establishing a radio-free Europe which broadcasts the truth about Communism. They will enroll the students who wish to sign the freedom scroll and make their contributions to aid in the purchase of more transmitters so that the truth may be broadcast to more people who are not enjoying the freedoms which Americans now have.

Large numbers of the students in the area have aided this worthy cause from the time of its beginning. They helped to purchase the freedom bell which rings out every day for peace and freedom for all people throughout the world. They write messages of good will. They signed the freedom scroll to show the strength of those who believe in freedom. They have for the past two years helped to purchase more transmitters for a radio-free Europe. Now each is again given the opportunity of signing the freedom scrolls and making a contribution if he so desires to buy more transmitters. All scrolls are placed under the big Freedom bell.

If anyone desires he may, upon the contribution of one dollar, write a one-hundred word message of freedom which will be read over the air to people of Europe. All contributions are voluntary. They are not necessary to permit one to sign the freedom scroll.

Antioch High Wins

Bears played in Antioch, so the game this week was re-scheduled there.

The game with Bensenville will be played there next Thursday evening instead of Friday because Friday—Lincoln's birthday anniversary is a school holiday.

In the Glenbrook game Ben Floyd and Larry Lass were high point men with 13 and 12 points respectively.

In the Wauconda game Ben Floyd, only returning regular from last year's team led the attack with 17 points. Coach Dick Scott's men built up a commanding lead at the half 30 to 14.

During the second half Larry Lass, Warren Brownlee, Mike Haviland and Jack Palmer continued their contributions along with those of Floyd to produce the 21-point margin when the final gun sounded. Haviland took runner-up honors with 11 tallies.

Antioch Frosh-Sophs Win
In the meantime, Warren Polley's frosh-soph team continued its remarkable winning streak by defeating the Glenbrook underclassmen 35 to 31 with Jim Fish marked as high point man on his 10 markers.

On Saturday night the Pappooses beat Wauconda 58 to 31. Polley sent in substitutes the last half of the third quarter and all of the fourth after the regulars had built up the overwhelming lead. Al Reckers was high point man with 18 points.

The Antioch underclassmen now are tied with Grant for the conference lead, but on points man and defensive play the Sequoias are superior to Grant.

Village Gets Proposal...

If the new addition is completed. The rental from the school is said to be insufficient to pay the cost of heating which is the most expensive part of maintenance.

E. H. Glenn said that he thought the village should take it over if the foundation is willing to give it.

"It may be a few headaches for us trustees, but that is what they pay us for," he said.

Other members of the board with Trustee Edmund F. Vos absent expressed approval of the plan, and Trustee John Blackman said members should investigate the situation.

President McMillen said the building might be made a youth center.

Good Place for Youth Center
"The high school students are raising a fund to build a center, but while they may get the building, they too may find it an expensive place to operate. This place may serve the purpose," he reasoned.

The Scout House was built largely through money donated by the late C. K. Anderson as a memorial to his wife, Leila Anderson. The Leila Anderson Foundation was incorporated with a representative of the Anderson family as one of the directors. Six other directors have been chosen from the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Woman's Club, Business and Professional Women's club, Lions club and American Legion.

Recently the board has had difficulty in making the building pay its way. The original gift of the building provides that it will revert to the Anderson heirs if no longer used or needed by the youth of the community. It is believed that in order to provide clear title to the building in turning it over to the operation. They would be tax free.

Besides the Scouts the Woman's club and the Home Bureau have used the building for meetings. Behind the building is the village park which has been fitted up with a Little League diamond and picnic grounds. The two places could be linked together in one operation. They would be tax free.

Even the price is sensational! Only $2,264⁸⁸

As you look at it, you can see a lot of what makes this new 1954 Buick SPECIAL so sensational.

You can see the long, low, sleek and ultra-glamorous lines that add up to the biggest automotive styling change in years.

You can see the remarkable new windshield with the back-swept corners—greatest visibility improvement since closed cars came on the market.

And of course you can see the price—the local delivered price—which is headline news, too.

For that, as a shopping tour will tell you, is just a few dollars more than those of the so-called "low-price three."

But what you can't see is the rest of the sensational automobile that's yours for the low price shown here.

The spectacular power of this SPECIAL's brand-new V8 engine. The honest six-passenger roominess. The truly modern interior luxury. The superb new handling ease. The sublime comfort of Buick's famed Million Dollar Ride—now steadied even more by a newly developed front-end geometry.

Fact is, there's so much that's terrific about this new glamor car, you ought to drop in and give it a really thorough study and sampling.

That way you'll prove to yourself that the buy—and the thrill—of the year is Buick. Come in this week, won't you?

Forty-Five U. S. Generals Outrank George Washington

WASHINGTON—A recent check up in the Defense Department revealed that as this is written, there are (living and dead) 45 generals in the United States who outrank George Washington.

General of the Armies John J. Pershing heads the list. General Pershing received this special rank after World War I and is the only American ever to hold it. General of the Armies and General of the Army, both five-star ranks, did not exist in Washington's day.

In many instances the Army acted years after an officer's departure from active duty or after his death to give him promotion. Ulysses S. Grant, William T. Sherman and Philip Sheridan achieved four-star rank long after the Civil War.

But the Army promotion boards never have done anything about stepping up the rank of the first commander.

Army historians say a Congressional Act of 1799, while General Washington was holding the office of commander with the rank of lieutenant general, undoubtedly was intended to provide the rank of full general for him. But, the historians report, no record can be found to show the appointment was made then or since, for the man who became first President of the United States.

As the list stands now, the officer who immediately out-ranks General Washington in the official list of high officers is Gen. Charles L. Bolte, promoted last July and slated to become the new Army Vice Chief of Staff.

Camera to Prove Secrets on Mars

LOS ANGELES—Dr. Edison Pettit of Mount Wilson Observatory reports a major 76-year-old scientific mystery—an apparent network of canals on Mars—may be solved next summer.

If the elusive lines are found to be filled with water, new arguments regarding the possible existence of life on the neighbor planet will be precipitated.

A special motion picture camera, Dr. Pettit says, has been prepared to be attached to the world's second largest telescope, the 100-inch lens on Mount Wilson, in hopes of getting the first clear picture of the canals.

From July 6, 1954, for about six weeks, the planet will be only 40,000,000 miles from the earth, within 100,000 miles of the closest approach, and Mars will circle directly between the earth and sun. Mars may be 200,000,000 miles away when it is on the far side of the sun, and is then too remote to photograph advantageously.

BBC Reports Big Deficit Last Year

LONDON—Britain's state-sponsored broadcasting system, which does not use commercials, reports it went in the red $2,138,908 last year.

The corporation blamed most of the deficit for the year on the government's take from the $2.80 annual license fee British listeners and viewers pay on each set they own.

Before last year, the government kept 5 per cent of this income, which is the BBC's chief revenue. Now the government retains 15 per cent.

Lowly Nickel to Buy Industry for Towns

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa.—The twin boroughs of Mauch Chunk and East Mauch Chunk are out to attract new industries and they plan to do it with the lowly nickel.

They are attempting to raise money for factory sites, but instead of concentrating on big contributions of cash the people are satisfied with giving a nickel a week for five years.

With the population of 8,000, the nickels would multiply to $300 a week, $15,000 a year and $78,000 in five years.

Joseph Boyle, editor of The Mauch Chunk Times-News, and father of the idea, says, "With $78,000 we'll be in shape to provide a factory site to attract new industry."

Buying factory sites to attract industry has been widely used in the south for several years.

Scent for Rover

CUMBERLAND, Me.—Walter L. Arnold, a former guide and trapper, has an odd business. He sells deer scents to 3,000 customers a year.

He explains his business like this: "The scents are to keep Rover from cutting out after the wrong deer."

"If you're rabbit hunting and the dog persists in chasing deer, well you make a muzzle out of rag soaked with deer scent and put it on Rover. He associates deer scent with a muzzle and chances are—never chase a deer."

SHORT STORYChicken And Dumplings

By Norman Disher

MR. WINKLE had been a bachelor for forty years but his landlady, Mrs. Emily Lumley, widow of two husbands, intended to put an end to it. Her last husband had passed away over a year ago and Emily was beginning to feel the need of companionship. Mr. Winkle was a small, but good looking man, and he had a fine job in the downtown bank. He was what Mrs. Lumley termed, "responsible and secure."

Emily knew Mr. Winkle's ideas on marriage were negative but she intended to remedy that. One morning when she met Mr. Winkle at the bottom of the stairs she started her campaign. He'd just told her about his latest promotion.

"Why Mr. Winkle, that's twice now in three months. I think it's wonderful!"

"Yes it is," Mr. Winkle replied, "but not wholly undeserved. I've introduced several new shortcuts in the system for handling accounts and statements. One must use his head, you know."

"Yes, yes, that's true," Emily answered thinking how nice it would be to have such a confident man for a husband. Her last two husbands had been small men in their fields. "Why haven't you married? Now that you have such a good position you ought to have a home."

"Chicken and dumplings!" he exclaimed. "Wonderful, wonderful!"

"My dear Mrs. Lumley," Winkle assured her. "I have never in my forty years found a woman capable of fulfilling the virtues of domestic and mental qualities that I admire in womankind. Until then I am content to live alone."

Later in the day when Emily thought about their conversation she decided that she knew a way to ensnare Mr. Winkle. "After all," she remarked to herself, "I've been through this before and there's one sure way of convincing him about married life."

Emily intercepted Mr. Winkle when he returned from work and invited him to have dinner with her on Friday evening. Mr. Winkle readily accepted.

Friday evening Mr. Winkle appeared at Mrs. Lumley's door. "Come in, come in," Emily beamed at him.

Mr. Winkle entered into a neat, modern living room. He mentally checked his list of domestic virtues on the good side. Dinner was waiting on the table.

"Chicken and dumplings!" he exclaimed. "Wonderful, wonderful!"

They sat down and ate in silence (another good check on the list) while some light dinner music tinkled in from the phonograph in the front room.

"Mrs. Lumley," he rejoiced, "this dinner is exquisite. It's my favorite dish. Wonderful indeed!"

"Well, thank you, Mr. Winkle."

After they had finished their dessert and had discussed the banking business, which surprised Mr. Winkle no end since he'd always contended women knew nothing about banking. Mr. Winkle started to leave. It had been over an hour since he'd checked the last item on his mental list and he'd been so overcome by the easy manner of Mrs. Lumley that he'd forgotten to look further. Now it was time to go.

"Thank you, Emily, the dinner was excellent."

"You're quite welcome, Robert. We'll have to do this again soon. Goodnight," Emily smiled.

"Goodnight," Mr. Winkle answered feeling exuberant.

She let him eat out for two weeks and then one evening there came a knock on her door.

"Emily," he practically shouted, "Emily, you must marry me, you just must!"

"Well goodness gracious, you don't have to shout. Of course I will."

"When?"

"As soon as you want."

Emily never did show her husband the book of matches he'd dropped the day she had spoken to him at the bottom of the stairs. The cover advertised:

"Come to THE NEST CAFE, the best Chicken and Dumplings in Town."

DEEP LAKE NEWS

Mrs. Sally Groat left for Miami on the Monday night plane, bent on a well-earned vacation. She will visit Mr. and Mrs. J. Giltz and other relatives, also stopping in at Roseland, Fla., to visit Henning Johnson. She has hopes of seeing her son, William Gerraughty, who may be in the vicinity during the time she is in Florida.

Also leaving for Florida are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Luehr, of Second ave. They will drive, and visit many points of interest en route. Mrs. Hannah Koller left on Monday, Feb. 1, for the west coast and will be gone for a month, possibly longer.

These three vacationists were given a handsome send-off at a luncheon given by Mrs. Oda Iverson of Second ave. last Tuesday, Jan. 26.

We hear that the Valdemar Petersons who have been visiting Henning Johnson in Florida, are continuing their trip to New Orleans. They will spend a few days at the Mardl Gras and then proceed homeward.

Mrs. Harry Swanson, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Heckel, in Miami will start for home, via Tampa, where she will visit her son, Fred, who is stationed at the Air Force base. She and her other two sons, Nick and Hal, will then fly home.
